Mr. Neely moved that the Board adopt an ordinance creating and defining a lawful fence. Mr. Farrier seconded. Motion carried with Mr. Farrier and Mr. Neely voting for.

WHEREAS, the rule of the common law which requires the owner of animals to keep them on his own land or within enclosures is not in force within the Commonwealth, except in those counties where the "no fence" law has been adopted, and

WHEREAS, the owner of the animals, being under no obligation to restrain them, is not liable for damage done in consequence of their straying onto the unenclosed lands of another, unless he drives them there, and

WHEREAS, Section 8-880 authorizes the Board of Supervisors of any county after posting notice of the time and place of meeting thirty (30) days at the front door of the Courthouse, and at each voting place in the county, and by publishing the same once a week for four (4) successive weeks in some newspaper of such county, all of which have been done, pursuant to direction of the Board of Supervisors meeting held on February 1, 1977, 10:00 a.m.

WHEREAS, it is the intention of the Board of Supervisors of Giles County to define a lawful fence for the protection of property owners, or leaseholders, in regards to actual damage sustained where animals as defined by Section 8-874 have strayed onto their property, and

WHEREAS, this ordinance is to have no basis upon proof by owner or manager for damages should a gate be left open by some person other than the owner or manager who are not their employees or agents nor does this ordinance apply as a basis for possible civil damages should a portion of fence be destroyed either by accident or by an "act of God" unless the manager or owner of such animals does not within a reasonable time repair the fencing involved, provided however that accident or damage was not the direct result of negligence of the owner or manager of such animals,

NOW, THEREFORE, be it and it is hereby ordained by the Board of Supervisors of Giles County, Virginia, as follows:

Section 1. It is the intention of this ordinance to hold liable the owner or manager of any horse, mule, cattle, hogs, sheep or goats for the actual damages sustained, if the amount of such damage shall be one dollar or more, by such animals straying onto the premises of others and destroying crops or other property.

Section 2. That it is now declared pursuant to the provisions and the authority contained in Section 8-886, Code of Virginia 1950, that the following designated items shall be considered a lawful fence within the County of Giles but not to include any area within an incorporated town which may or may not have a local "no fence" law:

A. A lawful fence is any barrier that is sufficient to contain on any property, any horse, mule, cattle, hogs, sheep or goats, from straying be it stream, river, gorge, wire, rail, plank, or any other barrier or combination of barriers.

B. By consent in writing from adjoining land owners there need be no lawful fence, however, this consent does not override the liability of an owner of animals defined by Section 8-874, Code of Virginia, 1950.

Section 3. Should any portion of this ordinance be declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of this ordinance as a whole or any part thereof other than the part so declared to be invalid or unconstitutional.

Section 4. All ordinances or portions of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed to the extent of their conflict.

Section 5. This ordinance shall be effective on and after 12 noon March 9, 1977.

Martin P. Farrier, Chairman of the Board

1. Any animal control officer who has reason to believe that a canine or canine crossbreed within his jurisdiction is a dangerous dog or vicious dog shall apply to a magistrate of the jurisdiction for the issuance of a summons requiring the owner or custodian, if known, to appear before the general district court at a specified time. The summons shall advise the owner of the nature of the proceeding and the matters at issue. The animal control officer

If the animal control officer determines that the owner or custodian can confine the animal in a manner that protects the public safety, he may permit the owner or custodian to confine the animal until such time as evidence shall be heard and a verdict rendered. The court, through its contempt powers, may compel the owner, custodian or harborer of the animal to produce the animal. entry by minors, adults, or other animals. The structure shall be designed to provide the animal with shelter from the elements of nature. When off its owner's property, an animal found to be a dangerous dog shall be kept on a leash and muzzled in such a manner as not to cause injury to the animal or biting a person or another animal.

custodial parent or legal guardian shall be responsible for complying with all requirements of this section.

7. After an animal has been found to be a dangerous dog, the animal's owner shall immediately, upon learning of same, notify the local animal control authority if the animal (i) is loose or unconfined; (ii) bites a person or attacks another animal; (iii) is sold, given away, or dies; or (iv) has been moved to a different address.

8. The owner of any animal which has been found to be a dangerous dog who willfully fails to comply with the requirements of the ordinance shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor.

required under Virginia Code § 3.1-796.104:1.

may determine, after investigation, whether a dog is a dangerous dog. If the animal control officer determines that a dog is a dangerous dog, he may he may appeal the determination to the General District Court for a trial on the merits.

(3) The special permit may be revoked by the Board of Supervisors at any time upon written notice to the owner/applicant and after an opportunity to be heard. Grounds for revocation shall include escape of the animals from the cage or enclosure, or any death, damage or injury caused by the animals.

(4) All hybrid canines shall be sterilized prior to the issuance of a permit. The applicant for such permit shall produce evidence of such sterilization as a part of the application.

(5) The owner of a hybrid canine shall immediately notify the local animal warden or other local law enforcement agency if the animal warden cannot be located if the hybrid canine is loose or not confined; bites or attacks a person or other animal; dies; or has been moved to a different location other than that specified on the permit.

(6) Any person whether as principal, agent, employee or otherwise violating, causing or permitting the violation of this section shall be guilty of a class 3 misdemeanor and punished by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1000.00). Each day any violation shall constitute a separate offense.    C. The time for sterilization may extend for thirty days the date by which a dog or cat must be sterilized on presentation of a written report from a veterinarian stating that the life or health of the adopted animal may be jeopardized by sterilization.
